

HITOTSUBASHI UNIVERSITY

All of Hitotsubashi University's educational programs have been meticulously prepared to cultivate each student individually, and the University has consequently prepared many promising, talented graduates for society. The faculty is not only deeply involved in cutting-edge research but also closely works with students in small-group seminars of about seven or eight students. The greatest feature of the University is the richness of its high-quality education. Students emerge from this favorable environment with the ability to identify and solve issues on the basis of their in-depth, specialized knowledge and contribute to social, economic, academic, and cultural advancement in Japan and around the world. Hitotsubashi University aims to be a worldclass education and research center in the social sciences, continuing its esteemed tradition and history while advancing toward further sophistication and internationalization of research and education.

Hitotsubashi University also concentrates on cultivating graduates who can flexibly respond in an increasingly globalized society. To that end, in addition to enhancing English education as a communication skill, we offer overseas research and internship opportunities that allow students to experience and understand real-world situations firsthand. These programs are preceded by thorough preliminary studies and enable the students to have direct contact and discussion with university professors and students, businesspeople, and government officials in other countries, particularly developing ones.

In 2015, Hitotsubashi University marked its 140th anniversary. Its history has been marked by a continuous dedication to expanding the scope of its research and education and deepening the content of its instruction. Going forward, we will further strengthen Hitotsubashi's distinctive character as a university that takes great care to nurture each student individually while leading the way in cutting-edge research and fulfilling the role as a leading research and education center in a globalized society.
